It took him 3 years of intensive trials to develop the HMD™ which has now been tested with over 350 people in double blind, placebo controlled trials

As a result of these trials, HMD™ is now the most scientifically tested, effective and safest oral heavy metal chelator available today!

The average individual could absorb as much as 120 micrograms or more of mercury per day from their amalgam fillings - this is considered a very toxic dose
World Health Organization

- HMD™ helped to improve Heart Rate Variability Testing - a measure of Autonomic Nervous System functioning
- No pathological parameters on biochemical tests of liver, kidney & heart functioning
